

Andy Hershey, will speak on Tuesday, November 27th @ 7 PM, in CAOS, Room 1013

A former professor at the Adventuresports Institute of Garrett College, Andy is now Program Coordinator and Lecturer in the Adventure Sports Management program at Frostburg State University. Andy's career has included field, classroom and administrative positions working with a variety of populations in the outdoor industry and he has spent time as a backcountry ranger in Yosemite National Park, as a Program Coordinator at the Yellow Breeches Educational Center and as a guide and instructor at a variety of outdoor programs and guide services. In addition to his role at Frostburg, Andy is also a co-owner at North Fork Adventures LLC (www.nfadventures.com and www.senecarocks.com) and is an instructor and guide in the Paradox Sports Adaptive Climbing Initiative (www.paradoxsports.org).

